But that’s exactly what the IronPigs are getting in their bullpen these days in the form of 19-year-old Akron native Matt Toole. Toole is making a name for himself as one of the more promising arms in the entire system. He has worked two scoreless innings, including allowing just one hit and one walk in the last two outings. On Saturday, he threw three perfect innings against the Lake County Captains to earn his first major-league win. That was the eighth win of the season for the IronPigs, who ended a four-game losing skid with a 5-1 victory over the Tennessee Smokies at Fifth Third Field. Read more... Past News Releases TOLEDO, Ohio — Just over six months ago, up-and-comer Matt Toole didn’t have a very good idea where his baseball career would take him. After signing with the IronPigs as a non-drafted free agent following the 2012 draft, Toole was on the verge of getting dropped down to the Lake County Captains when he was signed by the Dodgers. “I’ve signed and all of a sudden it didn’t work out at all,” said Toole. “I went back home to Akron to the middle school where I grew up. A lot of people weren’t expecting me to play baseball at all. I was just shocked. I had just been dropped and then I got the call that I was being drafted again,” Today, the right-hander is back in the press box, but with some very different ideas in mind. “To come to the big leagues I was expecting to get a shot, I never thought I’d be out here having this much success. So I’m just excited, I
